

Unlike many other radio stations, Klove serves as a very positive influence across the nation. They offer clean and encouraging music and commentary...no filthy language or disgusting talk. Everyone in the family and therefore, the communities they reach can listen without fear of what might be broadcast next. If we were to lose the ability to listen to K-Love, we would be left with stations that are not family-friendly and this would have a negative impact on our communities. Because of their commitment to be positive and encouraging, they are a wonderful asset to our communities and therefore, provide a great service that is definitely a positive in the public interest.
